Ambulance Need Due Study

SPORT FOR ALL SEASONS

They share an apartment in Monte Carlo, earn perhaps $150,000 each a year playing tennis. They look alike in the sense of long hair, 160-pound, 5-11 builds and tennis attacks.

But Borg at 19 beat Vilas at 23 in the World Championship of Tennis finale in Dallas, 1-6, 6-1, 7-5, 6-1. Borg won $50,000, a luxury car and a diamond ring. Vilas soothed his wounds with a check for $20,000.

Perhaps 200 tennis players in Cameron and thousands of others in Central Texas saw the match on Sunday afternoon television.

The best place to see it was medium high in a corner seat at Moody Coliseum, Dallas.

Borg won the finale the first time in three tries as a finalist. He lost to Australian-Texan John Newcombe in 1974, to Arthur Ashe last year. The Swedish tennis wonder has been playing the pro circuit since he was 16.

Blood Pressure Clinic Offered Here Saturday

There will be a free blood pressure clinic on Saturday, May 15, at Methodist Fellowship Hall in Cameron from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m.

The clinic is co-sponsored by St. Edward Hospital and the Cameron Noon Lions Club.

If anyone needs a ride to the clinic they should call 697-2511 during the week or 697-2372 on Saturday.

May has been named National High Blood Pressure Month. Sponsors of the clinic say high blood pressure has no symptoms until it explodes into stroke, heart disease, or kidney failure. They add that the key to controlling high blood pressure is convincing people to get and stay on treatment.

The first step is getting regular blood pressure checks, and they urge that everyone, even children, start their regular check-ups during May.

High blood pressure attacks all ages and people, but presents special problems to blacks and women. It is one of the major causes of sickness, disability, and death in this country.

PRIZES OFFERED FOR WEST SIDE HOME CONTEST

West Cameron residents will vie for prizes of $35 (first place) and $10 (second place) in three categories of judging in the West Cameron Beautification and Improvement Contest sponsored by Gene Blake of the Cameron Coca Cola Bottling Company and the Cameron Community Development Agency.

Members of the Beautification Committee elected to award prizes for general neatness and attractiveness in three divisions: new homes, older homes, rental homes.

Emphasis in the contest will be on improvements in the home and yard and the effect of the property's appearance on the surrounding area.

Contest committee members Jan Luecke, chairman; Mildred Thornton, Julius Whiteside, Hattie Anderson, and Mrs. Robert McIntyre, set a deadline of June 1 for nominations in the contest with an award ceremony slated for June 13.

Boxes will be placed in each West Cameron church for nominations in the contest or individuals may place a nomination at the Community Development Agency, 112 E. 1 St.

The contest judging will follow a city-wide clean up drive when the city sanitation trucks will schedule special truck runs for removal of junk items and yard trimmings.

Vilas is Argentine and slated to rank with Borg, Connors and newcomer Solomon in tennis hierarchy for the next five to 10 years.

But the best bet is Borg will dominate tennis the next decade. He hits a top-spin forehand that bounces ear high on a 6-footer. Vilas has a sensational backhand about the equal of Australian great Rod Laver's.

Borg is so strong that Solomon, a wallboard, moon-shot defensive master, was worn out in one set. Solomon at 5-6 simply could not manage the leverage it takes to handle Borg's ripping topspin.

One point in the finals may have been a record for duration. Borg and Vilas hit 83 shots, the point taking more than 3 minutes to play. Against Solomon, Borg took the second set in 15 minutes after destroying him physically in the first, 7-5.

Beside seeing a lot of money change hands at the end of a four-set finale, 117 saw what great tennis always is, only a bit more so with baseline, topspin tennis. And that is superb conditioning and incredible racket-arm strength.

Tennis at the district junior high level found Cameron players in two singles and two doubles finals Tuesday, winning one. Leading were the junior entries from Austin West Lake area, sporting the eighth-grade champion of the Corpus Christi Buccaneer Days tournament and a former Texas 10-and-under champion who isn't so bad in 14s.

Last week, Cameron juniors showed well in 3A competition at Georgetown, we understand.

As Cameron is so rapidly learning, tennis is a sport for all seasons.

FOR ROCKDALE MAN...

High Speed Race Ends In Death

Another traffic fatality was chalked up for Milam County Tuesday night when a young Rockdale man was killed in a one-car accident after being observed racing by a highway patrolman.

Dead on arrival at a Rockdale hospital was Daniel Lankford, 19. He was killed when the car he was in left the road while racing with a car driven by Roy Leonard Allen, 20, also of Rockdale. DPS Trooper Jerry Benson said it was not determined who was driving the death car. Lankford, or Danny Crow, 18 of Milano, who was taken to Scott and White Hospital.

The accident occurred three miles west of Rockdale on Highway 79. Allen was not involved in the accident but when he returned to the crash scene he was arrested for driving

Svetlik, Riola Tops In Broiler Show

By Kenneth Waites

The 22nd Annual Milam County Junior Broiler Show was held Saturday, May 8 at the City Park in Cameron and surprisingly not a drop of rain fell.

There were 40 broiler growers this year and all did a very good job.

Eleanor Svetlik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Svetlik of Buckholts, showed the champion pen of pullets and was named Grand Champion of the show.

Christopher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riola of Cameron, had the Reserve Champion pullets and the Reserve Champion of the show.

The champion pen of cockerels was shown by Stephen Borho of Griffin Chapel and the Reserve Champion cockerels by Dominic Riola of Cameron.

The first place winners in the judging contest were Stephen Borho, cock-County commissioners Monday authorized County Judge O. B. Harden to appoint a committee representing cities and towns within the county to study the current ambulance problem.

Request for such action came from Cameron Mayor Lawrence Zotz and several city council members who met with commissioners. They included Jan Luecke, Monroe Fuchs, Gene Lumpkin, and Ernest Moore.

The problem will become acute on June 15 when two funeral homes in Cameron will discontinue their ambulance service.

Zotz read a prepared statement at the meeting which said, in part:

"It wouldn't be fair not to offer service to Buckholts and Thorndale, plus unincorporated cities such as Milano and Gause, as it would be totally impractical for the smaller cities to provide this service for their citizens which they can ill afford.

"In view of our countywide geographical situation, we feel the best answer to our problem would be through the county."

Zotz said an emergency service was needed, not a money making service.

Judge Harden said nothing could be done by the county for such service within the county's present tax structure. "We'll have to ask an increase in taxes," he said.

Thorndale Mayor Louis Woelfel said it was time county taxes were raised from the Depression era to modern times. He said the present tax rate was the same used in the 1930s.

Councilman Lumpkin commended commissioners on operating the county with a small amount of money.

Harden told the gathering that Rockdale Mayor N. E. Alford said ambulance service could be a money making thing.

In other business, commissioners officially ended the discount for early payment of taxes, action expected to raise tax revenues by at least $9500.

Giving the proposed county museum some of the county's revenue sharing funds was also discussed. Harden noted that the county will receive $76,247 for the remainder of this year, and it should not all be put in road and bridge funds. "I'm not sure we divide ours correctly," he said. Action was tabled until Thursday.

Commissioners and Judge Harden were sworn in as the county tax equalization board, which will start meeting on June 7.

Court voted to pay $150 to James Shaw for his service as night watchman at Gause after a wave of store breakins.

Judge Harden said it has been recommended by the Milam County Bar Association that the county purchase a law library for the use of attorneys in the county. Cost may run to $4000.

Commissioners emphasized to the news media that they are not allowed to haul gravel for private individuals on private property, and also can't do work for individuals except for terracing.

Music Festival Set Saturday

Cameron's Community Bicentennial Festival will be presented Saturday, May 15 at 6:45 p.m. at the Yoe High stadium.

Beneficiary Of Mistrust...

A fine crack showed up in the Carter claim to first-ballot nomination among Democrats next summer. And the crack showed up in Nebraska.

For Senator Frank Church, the belated presidential entry from Idaho, was leading Jimmy Carter about 40 per cent to 35 per cent.

Another crack, much wider if not foreboding a chasm, developed in a tight Republican presidential vote which found Ronald Reagan at 51 per cent, President Ford at 49 per cent early Wednesday and holding.

Though Carter could afford a second in far mid-west Nebraska, Ford could not.

California's Governor Jerry Brown, campaigning in Maryland, may widen the penetration into Carter's apparent lead for the Democratic nomination. He is making heavy points in Maryland and is perhaps a bit ahead, six days before the primary there.

The President did carry in West Virginia, which Reagan people had conceded.

Geography is now more critical than ever for Carter. If Church repeats what he did in other Western states, he will label Carter a multi-regional success from Iowa east to New England, but short of total U.S. approval. Votes in that part of the country are fewer than where Carter already has scored major successes, such as Pennsylvania.

Nebraska's loss means Ford's home-state Michigan is all but a Waterloo if he loses there next week. A Brown win first time out in Maryland, like Church's win in Nebraska, could bracket Carter just short of what the Georgian wants: 1,000 or more delegates going into New York this summer.

What this means is that a floor fight of monumental proportions could develop in the National Republican Convention. And a fight would erupt after a first-ballot near-miss by Carter in the National Democratic Convention.

The Nebraska loss was otherwise significant to both Ford and Carter.

For Reagan, the money pumps are on again while Ford's are slowing down. The Federal Election Commission has been authorized by Congress and Ford, so Reagan federal money is freed.

For Carter, it means Western politicians Church and Brown are encouraged to mount greater efforts the next week to 10 days to prove Carter is stoppable. The natural inclinations of a Democratic convention and a bereft Hubert Humphrey would do the rest.

While Reagan has gained five straight primary wins speaking to "issues," Carter has been winning primaries not speaking at all.

The primary crossover vote, though small in number compared to total general election counts, is finding "issues" important to conservative Republicans and Democrats and independents.

And if the economy is properly explained by Ford in the remaining primaries, the Democrats will find by convention time genuine interest in Carter's issueless "amazing grace." This is because the Democrats don't have an economic issue.

The right-of-center inclinations of voters in 1976 will not take quickly to Carter's proposals for the government to create "meaningful public jobs in the cities and neighborhoods of the unemployed."

Unemployment nationally is stabilized at about 7.5 per cent. If it is to go below that figure dramatically in a year, it will require some reinstitution of a war-like economy.

Economic recovery is Ford's forte. Reagan's is foreign policy and military preparedness. We still are not sure what Carter is, other than a smiling beneficiary of a national mistrust.

Hot Railroad Commission Race On

A hot Railroad Commission runoff campaign between Jerry Sadler, 68, and State Rep. Jon Newton, 34, is under way.

Sadler, a pre-World War II Railroad Commissioner and former Land Commissioner, led the big May 1 Democratic primary field of candidates for the oil and gas regulatory agency.

Newton, a state lawmaker from Beeville, came in second and is rounding up endorsements from most of the other Democratic candidates.

Sadler, of Grapeland in East Texas, is zeroing in on Newton's campaign financing from oilmen. He says he will accept no oil money "above the filling station level."

Newton, who barely mentioned Sadler in the first primary campaign, is citing the former commissioner's record which includes a reprimand by the House of Representatives in 1969 and refusal to open some of his land office records to the press.

Another statewide runoff on the June ballot is for the Court of Criminal Appeals. Carl Dally of Houston and W.T. Phillips of Waco are the candidates for the judicial place.

Don Yarbrough of Houston was a surprise winner of the May 1 State Supreme Court race over veteran Court of Civil Appeals Judge Charles Barrow of San Antonio. Some lawyers talked about chances of an independent candidate or write-in candidate against Yarbrough, but it's too late for an independent to get on the ballot.

Recession Ending

Texas worst recession since the 1930's seems to be coming to an end, according to The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

The rate of inflation has been reduced substantially, and business activity for the first quarter of 1976 was 14 per cent above the first quarter of the previous year and seven per cent above February level, the bureau reported.

About the same time, Secretary of State Mark White reported Texas led the Central U.S. in new businesses formed in January — with 1,709 new business corporations formed.

Liquor Sales O.K.

Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission offered guidelines as to how out-of-state-owned firms can continue to sell alcoholic beverages and stay within the law specifying ownership by Texans.

ABC set off a flurry of concern with an announcement it would enforce the in-state ownership law.

New guidelines tell how such chain operations as grocery stores and hotels can sell beer, wine or liquor at their premises by setting up a separate Texas firm to obtain the required state permit. The Texas entity would then lease space from the parent corporation. Joint cash registers could be used, with separate coding for the alcoholic beverage sales.

Courts Speak

Reversing earlier rulings, the State Supreme Court held Farmers Branch can collect property taxes on Panasonic television sets and Honda motorcycle parts warehoused within the city.

The Court of Criminal Appeals turned down a request for a new trial by a Nueces County man sentenced to from two to 10 years imprisonment for letting a baby starve.

A burglary case was remanded by the Court of Criminal Appeals to the trial court for a hearing to determine if an appeal waiver was made knowingly.

The Court of Criminal Appeals, in a rape case from Coryell County, directed a further hearing on competency to stand trial.

AG Opinions

Meetings of a municipal police officers association are not subject to the open meetings act, Atty. Gen. John Hill said in a new opinion.

Q: Does the law allowing you to turn right on a red light also allow you to turn left onto a one-way street?

A: Yes, you may turn left onto a one-way street after stopping at a red light, if you are in the far left lane of a one-way street. The "right turn on red" law, however, allows cities to exempt individual intersections from the law by posting a sign prohibiting turns on red lights. Also, this law does not give you the right-of-way when you turn on a red light — you still must wait for pedestrians and other traffic to clear before making your turn.

Q: I have been named executor of a relative's will. Will I have to post a bond to qualify as an executor?

A: State law requires anyone serving as executor of a will to post a bond, unless authorized by the will to serve without a bond. The purpose of this law is to assure financial responsibility of the executor for loss in the event of mismanagement of the estate. The law allows the person making the will to exempt the executor from this requirement in order to save his estate the expense and inconvenience of obtaining a bond.

Q: I've been living with a man for three years. We have one child. He has two children living with us. If he should die without leaving a will, would I have to go to court to claim his Social Security, and the house we are buying?

A: Any claim by a common law widow concerning Social Security benefits would depend on whether she could prove to the Social Security Administration that the common law marriage met the law's requirements. The rights of two people buying a house depend on many factors, including whether there is a valid common law marriage or whether the property was bought by them jointly as tenants-in-common. If the home is the family home, and if the common law marriage is valid, the widow has a community 1/2 interest in the property and the right to remain in the house for her lifetime, so long as the mortgage or other debt on the property is paid. If there was no valid common law marriage and the property was purchased by them jointly, she would own 1/2 as a tenant-in-common.

Q: My wife and I are considering giving some stock this year to one or more of our grandchildren. What procedures are involved?

A: Your stock may be transferred to your grandchildren by writing a letter to the transfer agent named on the face of the stock certificate. Enclose in the letter your stock certificate with your signature, which must be signed by a member of the New York Stock Exchange or the officer of a national bank. Also, enclose the name and address of the person to be given the stock and that person's social security number. Registered mail can be used to assure you the stock certificate was received by the transfer agent.

Send your questions to "You and the Law," State Bar of Texas, P.O. Box 12487, Austin, 78711. Answers may appear in columns in hypothetical terms; personal answers not possible.

We're diversifying our "mix" of generating plant fuels... to keep your electric service dependable.

For more than 30 years, natural gas was the only fuel used in Texas Power & Light Company generating plants. It was economical in cost and there was an abundant supply available.

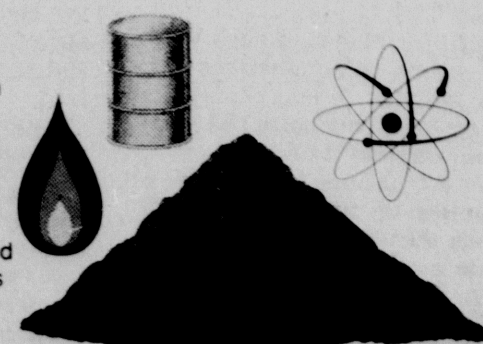

However, in recent years, the cost of gas has risen enormously and the supply is becoming increasingly uncertain.

During periods of cold weather in the last several years, and again this year, supplies of gas were curtailed drastically. TP&L used large quantities of oil to keep its plants operating.

Since 1971, TP&L has been steadily reducing its dependency on gas and oil with plants which use lignite coal as fuel. Lignite is a more economical fuel and it's readily available from huge deposits right here in Texas. Electricity is now being produced by two lignite-fueled plants in the TP&L area, one other is under construction and others are being planned.

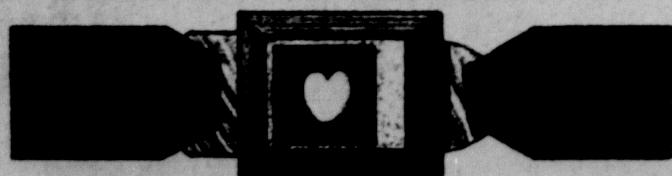

TP&L and two other North Texas electric companies have a nuclear-fueled plant under construction. The first of two generating units is scheduled to be placed in operation in 1980 and the second in 1982.

It's essential that TP&L continue planning and building new generating plants to make possible use of lower cost and more readily available fuels and, at the same time, keep your electric service dependable.

Bills Could Affect Phone Service

Bill recently introduced in both houses of Congress could decide the future of telephone service in Cameron and throughout the country.

C. L. Todd, vice-president and general manager for Southwestern Bell in San Antonio, said recent decisions by federal regulators will have significant adverse impact on the cost and quality of service to the average consumer.

"These decisions by the Federal Communications Commission were designed apparently to inject competition into two markets--communications equipment and intercity private line business services," Todd said. "What has developed instead is a government-imposed division of responsibility for service and a pricing structure that will hurt the 'little guy.'"

BILLS WERE introduced in the U. S. Senate and House in March to protect the interests of the average telecommunications user. These measures are also supported by virtually the entire telephone industry, including labor unions, independent telephone companies, and the Bell System, Todd said.

"The legislation would reaffirm the principles of the Communications Act of 1934 and ensure that decisions made on national telecommunications policy are in the public interest," Todd said. "To that end, this is clearly a consumer interest issue that deserves full and wide public debate."

Todd said the American public is largely unaware of the United States is the best in the world. One reason for that is Congress decided long ago that one company should have total responsibility for service in a given area. That concept has worked well.

"Dividing that responsibility can only lead to a deterioration in quality of service. At the same time, telephone company losses in revenues from specialized equipment and services eventually will result in higher rates for basic service. Again, the average consumer loses."

Todd acknowledged that not everyone will agree with the telephone industry viewpoint.

"But we strongly believe that the public--through their elected representatives--should have a chance to decide what the future direction of our national telecommunications policy will be."

Twin-Row Sorghum Trial Looking Good

By Bill M. McCutchen

Twin-row grain sorghum is looking good for Skipp Hobbs. Skipp planted sorghum on a raised bed which was definitely the thing to do this year and most years as the soil warms quicker and dries a little quicker, giving young sorghum a quick start.

On normal 40-inch rows, Hobbs has two rows on the top of the bed 10-inches apart. He said he planted about 8 pounds of seed and from the looks of his stand, he got about 80 percent of it up leaving his stand about right in my estimation.

The field was in cotton last year and root Johnsongrass is not a problem. For annual grasses and weeds Atrex was applied broadcast and it did an excellent job on both grasses and weeds.

The twin-row sorghum usually will pay off where land is clean enough to use this method. Twin-row means minimal cultivation and reliance on herbicides.

I would expect that twin-row sorghum should produce an extra 500 to 1,000 pounds of grain sorghum due to better plant spacing, and sun contact on leaf areas.

Increased yields have been rather constant but it takes equipment modification or new equipment to plant twin or narrow row sorghum and this has been a major deterrent to wide adoption of this practice to date.

Pecan Spraying Near

I checked pecans May 6 and at that time could find no evidence of pecan nut casebearer egg lay. That means that application dates could be no earlier than May 15 and with continued cool wet weather delaying egg lay I do not expect applications for the first generation of the pecan nut casebearer to be necessary before May 18.

I will be watching the insect situation on pecans closely and advise producers later on spray dates.

Bindweed Control

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station reports that bindweed in cotton can be effectively and safely controlled by spot treatments with Roundup.

In the past, most herbicides that were used to kill such perennial weeds as bindweeds were also toxic to cotton. Roundup, a new herbicide, was found in TAES (Texas Agricultural Experiment Station) tests to give between 45 and 92 percent bindweed control after one year.

Roundup will kill cotton on contact so spot treatments are necessary. This report comes from A. F. Wiese of the Boackland station.

Checks Important
For Fence Project

A new fence built of western wood can be a handsome backdrop to plantings, as well as a means of limiting traffic in or out of the yard.

But there are several important steps to take before digging the post holes. First, check local building codes for height and location regulations.

Discuss property lines with neighbors or have them determined by survey. Study prevailing wind patterns so you can take advantage of breezes or deflect bothersome winds.

Rustproof nails are recommended for outdoor structures.

Consumers May Find Fruit Cheaper

Consumers can expect bargains on processed fruits and vegetables as many grocery stores and manufacturers "step up" promotions on them, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt predicts.

She cited heavy supplies as the reason for upcoming "specials."

Mrs. Clyatt is a consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

She also recommended smaller-size cans of processed fruits and vegetables for economy in single-serving or two-serving menus, noting that 3 1/4-8 1/2 ounce cans adequately serve one or two persons--with no leftovers.

At most fresh-produce counters, cantaloupe, honeydew, and watermelon are available--but prices are high, as is usual for first-of-the-season items, Mrs. Clyatt said.

"The good old standbys, cabbage and carrots, have very attractive prices, though--and soft-shell squash prices are down slightly. Cooking greens and rutabagas have economical prices."

"Some stores are offering specials on various-sized bags of dry yellow onions and potatoes--but check for quality buying."

Corn, mostly from Florida, is a bit lower in price, she added.

"Strawberries are fairly plentiful now, but consumers will have to wait awhile for the rest."

"In fresh-fruit buying, grapefruit, oranges, apples, and bananas are plentiful--with economical prices--and tangerines are still available. Also, fresh pineapple offers some special prices," Mrs. Clyatt said.

"At beef counters, emphasis is on chuck roasts and steaks--and liver."

"In comparing prices, remember that the amount of bone and fat in a cut of meat determines the number of servings per pound it will yield," she advises.

In poultry sections, turkey drumsticks and hindquarters may offer "feature" prices. "For menu variety, chicken hens may be found at attractive prices."

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS
Frozen concentrate orange juice usually costs slightly more than four cents for a four-ounce serving--while canned orange juice averages about six and a half cents, and squeezing it from fresh fruit costs almost 12 cents for the same size serving, according to a recent United States Department of Agriculture survey.

Care instructions on flame resistant textiles should be followed strictly because improper care may even make the fabric highly flammable. For example, soap and hard water mineral deposits can counteract the effect of flame-retardant finishes.

SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

Chocolate Cream Cake

This extraordinarily moist chocolate cake almost shouts, "Surprise!" -- with its party-filling baked right inside. One secret ingredient, buttermilk, provides rich tenderness. Another, vanilla pudding, adds creamy texture to the filling. Prepare the pudding filling early, then assemble the final cake when convenient.

Spread half of the batter in the pan, cover with pudding and top with remaining batter. After baking, frost with chocolate frosting or simply dust with confectioners' sugar to add the finishing touch.

Chocolate Cream Cake is really something to boast about when you bake it with enriched flour. Enrichment adds the essential B-vitamins -- niacin, thiamine and riboflavin -- and the mineral, iron, to the natural goodness already available in flour.

Chocolate Cream Cake
one 13 x 9-inch cake

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 package (3 1/4 oz.) vanilla pudding and pie filling (not instant) | 2 square (1 oz. each) unsweetened chocolate, melted |
| 2 cups enriched flour* | 1 teaspoon vanilla extract |
| 1 teaspoon baking soda | 1/4 cup buttermilk |
| 1 teaspoon baking powder | 1/4 cup chopped pecans |
| 1/4 teaspoon salt | Chocolate Frosting OR sifted confectioners' sugar |
| 1/4 cup butter | |
| 1 cup sugar | |
| 2 eggs | |

Prepare pudding according to package directions. Cool completely. Stir together flour, soda, baking powder and salt. Cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs. Blend in chocolate and vanilla. Add flour alternately with buttermilk, beginning and ending with flour. Stir in nuts. Spread 1/2 of the batter in greased 13 x 9-inch baking pan. Spoon pudding evenly over batter. Spoon and spread remaining batter over pudding. Bake in preheated 350° oven 40 minutes. Cool completely. Frost with chocolate frosting or sprinkle with confectioners' sugar.

*Spoon flour into dry measuring cup; level. Do not scoop.

Low-Grade Lumber Saves Deck Costs

One way to save money when buying lumber for an outdoor deck is to use Utility grade 2x4s instead of a higher grade, and to set the decking on edge rather than flat.

Even though it takes more pieces to cover the same area, the price difference between Utility and higher grade lumber will mean a savings in the total bill.

Selecting the best edge to face up will cover the extra knots and other characteristics allowed in Utility grade, and decking on edge gives a sturdier surface than flat pieces, with an attractive and distinctive appearance.

Hiway Dept. Reduces Maintenance

Joe G. Hanover, district engineer of District 17, State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, has announced that efforts are being made to provide the public with the best system of highways possible even though the source of revenues is steadily diminishing.

One of the changes the motorists will note is a reduction in the maintenance of the right of way.

In order to reduce expenditures, mowing operations will be restricted to those required for the safety of the traveling public. This consists of strip mowing along the edge of the travelway, mowing at bridge ends, intersections, and inside areas of curves to provide adequate sight distance.

Funds saved in the reduction of mowing operations will be utilized for maintenance of the travelway.

Over the years, at no objection from the Department, many property owners have chosen to mow the highway right of way abutting their property in a manner that adds to the appearance of their property.

THAT VITAL SOMETHING

The trust of a child is a beautiful thing. Do you merit it?

Sure, you work hard every day to keep up payments on the nice, modern house where he has a room of his own — with enough toys in it to make two kids happy. You give him the best modern medical and dental care. You even started a special bank account for him — for the years when he will be going to college.

But — haven't you missed something? In your concern for his mental and physical well-being, haven't you overlooked that elusive, vital "something" called the soul?

Remember, man is neither all mind nor all body. He has a spiritual side, too!

Veterans Office Outlines Benefits Paid Last Year

Some 469,213 veterans, dependents, and survivors in Texas received $821,433,611 in Veterans Administration benefits during fiscal year 1975, according to Jack Coker, VA Regional Office director in Waco.

"That's a lot of federal money," Coker said, "but the irony of it is that there may be thousands of older veterans and eligible survivors of veterans who do not realize they are eligible for benefits."

VA benefits include such diversified areas as home loan guarantees, education benefits, life insurance coverage, burial benefits, and monthly payments in the form of compensation or pension, he explained. Some 1,603,000 veterans in Texas are potentially eligible plus some dependents and survivors.

"Education payments made to 177,931 veterans and eligible dependents totaled $284,882,389," Coker said. "An additional $487,102,046 in compensation and pension payments was made to 291,282 Texas veterans and survivors this year."

Disability compensation is paid to veterans who were disabled by injury or disease incurred on active duty and to those who had a medical condition that was aggravated by active military service. Those monthly payments range from $35 for a 10 percent degree of disability to $1,628 for specific severe disabilities. Spouses and children of veterans who die of these service-connected causes are eligible for Death Indemnity Compensation payments.

Pension is paid to eligible wartime veterans who are totally and permanently disabled for reasons not traceable to military service. Those who are 65 years of age or older are considered permanently and totally disabled for pension eligibility purposes. Dependent survivors of these veterans may receive pension assistance if their income does not exceed certain limits.

Motorists Waste Millions On Underinflated Tires

WASHINGTON, D.C. Motorists may waste more than $100 million in needless tire wear this summer unless they pay more attention to proper inflation than usual, the Tire Industry Safety Council said today.

Estimates by the U. S. Department of Commerce are that tires underinflated by four pounds of air pressure have tread life cut by 10 percent, and underinflation by 12 pounds can cut 40 percent. The Department also has estimated tire consumers spend $4.9 billion a year on new replacement tires.

"Even with only five percent excess wear, underinflation would cost tire users $250 million this year," Malcolm R. Lovell Jr., chairman of the Tire Industry Safety Council pointed out. This means at least $62.5 million would be lost during a quarter year. But, turnpike records show that passenger car travel doubles or even triples in peak summer driving months compared with winter.

"Underinflated tires waste gasoline, too, because they use more energy," Lovell said.

Government surveys have shown that more than one out of four cars has at least one seriously underinflated tire.

Correct inflation pressure for your tires can be found in the car owner's manual or on a sticker attached to the door or glove compartment. Maximum inflation pressure is molded into the sidewall of the tire.

Pressure in tires should be checked before starting out when tires are "cold." Up to four pounds of air pressure should be added if driving for long periods at high legal speeds, but maximum tire pressure must be observed.

Other tire safety and maintenance tips for summer drivers suggested by the Council are:

"Bald" tires with less than 1/16th inch of tread remaining are skid-prone and get more flats. They should be replaced.

"Vacation luggage and recreational equipment are often heavy. Don't overload the tires or the vehicle's suspension.

"Don't let air out of 'hot' tires after driving. Some air pressure build-up occurs naturally with use and will subside as the tire cools.

"Rotate tires according to patterns in the car owners manual or as recommended by tire manufacturers.

"Remove foreign objects such as stones, glass fragments, or metal from tire tread before it becomes imbedded and possibly damages the tire.

"Check wear patterns on tires to clues to proper wheel alignment, balance, and condition of brakes and shock absorbers.

"Beware of 'summer ice' when rain falls on top of oily road film, particularly after long dry spells.

OJT Earns 1st Rating In Contest

The O. J. Thomas Jr. High band competed in the UIL Concert and Sight-Reading Contest held in Waco Thursday, April 29. The band received a First Division rating in concert and a Third Division rating in sight-reading.

On Friday, April 30, the beginning band traveled to Brenham to compete at the Blinn College Music Meet. The band maintained the high stand of performance set by the Yoe High Band and the O. J. Thomas Jr. High band by receiving a First Division rating in concert. No sight-reading contest was offered.

Gary Beach, director, stated: "It takes a great deal of sacrifice and mental discipline to obtain the rating of a superior band. I am very proud of the progress the bands have made this year and appreciate the hard work of all my students."

YOE HIGH Band expresses their excitement after winning a first division at the UIL Concert and Sightreading Contest held at Temple Junior College.

Entomologist Cites Horse Sleeping Sickness, Ticks

Mosquito season is here and that means the danger increases for sleeping sickness in horses.

One of the most serious diseases carried by mosquitoes is equine encephalitis, or sleeping sickness.

There are three kinds of equine encephalitis -- western (WEE), eastern (EEE) and Venezuelan (VEE). Eastern and western encephalitis are the most common.

In 1975, 674 cases of WEE and 55 cases of EEE were diagnosed by U.S. Department of Agriculture laboratories. Also, an additional 105 cases of WEE and 40 cases of EEE were diagnosed by state and public health labs. VEE was a problem in Texas in 1971, but since that time no cases have been diagnosed in the U. S.

Ticks have been a real problem to homeowners in the area. The American dog tick and the Lone Star tick have been identified as the two major species of concern. Tick control is a combination of cultural control and chemical control. The homeowner must understand the fundamental biology and habits of these ticks to achieve a satisfactory level of control.

Ticks have four developmental stages - egg, six-legged larva, eight-legged nymph and adult. These ticks usually mate on the host animal. The female drops to the ground and deposits from 3,000 to 6,000 eggs, which hatch into larvae or "seed ticks." Larva climb nearby vegetation where they collect in large number waiting for small rodents or other animals to pass within reach. After a blood meal on the host, the engorged larvae drop to the ground, shed their skins (molt) and emerge as nymphs. The nymphs locate a host, engorge themselves with blood, drop to the ground, molt and become adults. Adult ticks seek host animals and after engorgement, mate.

To clear up some of the myths about removal of ticks by using hot needles, turpentine, finger nail polish, and other methods again you must understand the feeding of ticks. There is some truth to these tales of removing ticks if you remove the tick within 20-30 minutes after attachment. After the tick inserts its mouthparts into your skin it begins secreting a substance which forms a "plug." After this plug has formed all the hot needles, turpentine, etc. will not make the tick turn loose. (Believe me, there is nothing more the tick would like to do than be relieved on the torture). When the tick is ready to leave the host it will secrete another substance to dissolve the plug. It takes about 30 to 60 minutes for this to take place before the tick can remove its mouthparts. The best way to remove ticks is to use a sterile needle and gently pry their mouthparts out in the same fashion you would remove a splinter. If you get to the tick before he has secreted the plug go ahead and use the hot needles, turpentine, fingernail polish or camphor.

TICK CONTROL

If a tick infestation occurs, treat the home, yard and pets at the same time. Examine dogs and cats frequently for ticks. Control light infestations on dogs and cats more than 4 weeks old with weekly applications of dusts containing 5 percent chrysanthemum (Sevin). Rub the dust to the skin and apply to the animal's sleeping quarters. Continue treatments for as long as needed. Heavy infestations on pets should be handled by a veterinarian.

Light infestations in buildings usually can be controlled with a household spray containing 0.5 percent chrysanthemum (Dursban) is registered for controlling brown dog ticks. Apply the insecticides only as light, spot treatments to areas where ticks are found or suspected to be hiding. DO NOT USE THESE CHEMICALS FOR TREATING PETS. Treatment around baseboards, window and door casings, wall cracks and in pet sleeping quarters is usually necessary.

Yoe High Athletes Honored

Baylor offensive coach Ron Harms spoke to over 300 people attending the Yoe High All Sports banquet that honored male and female athletes Monday night at the Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Harms is a native Texan and has coached high school, and college football in three states and was offensive coordinator for Texas A&I. A&I is the defending National AAI champs for two years running.

During Harms' speech, he told the YHS athletes that they should be leaders and to set a good example for the younger people that look up to athletes.

"Athletes have a chance to guide the younger kids and it is your responsibility to give them leadership," Harms added.

It has been proven by doctors that athletes have the following characteristics: more ambition, more respect for authority, greater leadership quality, and more self-confidence. Also, athletes are more reliable, neater in appearance, and are more mentally stable.

Harms added that the more you win the greater an obligation you have to fill.

"Someone will follow your example. Give them a leader that has morals and a strong character," Harms concluded.

After an enthusiastic speech, the football captain crowned Senior Vanessa Wilkerson '75 football Sweetheart. Captain Stanley Manners presented the sweetheart with a dozen red roses. Vanessa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilkerson of 1401 W. 8 in Cameron.

Booster Club President Leroy Doskocil made the presentation of Booster Club Award. Joey Mondrik was selected by the Booster Club for his outstanding performance during the grid season. Joey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mondrik of 103 N. Bowie, Cameron.

Leroy Koskocil, aided by Roselee Mondrik, announced the Booster of the Year.

Lincoln Mondrik was honored as the Booster of the Year.

Summer Camp Set For Little League

In anticipation of a very successful Little League Baseball season about to burst upon the scene, Little League officials at the Texas State headquarters at Waco, have announced plans for the fourth annual Summer Camp program.

The Summer Camp program at Waco, on the campus of Baylor University, is quite naturally oriented to baseball and the correct way to play the game, according to Jan Cochran, coordinator of the camp program.

However, she noted that the program also offers a variety of recreation such as swimming, basketball, volleyball, table tennis, and other team and individual activities. "We also stress the point that a boy need not be a member of Little League to attend our summer camp," she said.

Open to boys 9 to 15 years of age, the camp sessions are supervised by carefully selected and experienced instructors and counselors, many of whom are chosen from the ranks of college coaching staffs, the field of physical education and from school guidance personnel. Little League officials said.

Campers are housed in air-conditioned dormitory units and meals are served in fully modern dining room facilities amid the intellectual and academic influence of Baylor University Campus.

According to the coordinator, three camp sessions will be held: June 20 to July 2; July 4 to July 16; and July 18 to July 30. Applications are being accepted on a first-come basis.

The Little League spokesman said information and Summer Camp applications can be obtained by writing to: Little League Summer Camp, TSTI, Box T 1999, Waco, TX 76705. Telephone 817-799-1961.

Attention Coaches!

The Herald would like to have scores from Minor, Little, and Pony League games. If each team would appoint a reporter he/she may call the Herald at 697-6671 and we will be glad to publish results.

HONOR. ... Former Yoe athlete John Barron was named as the outstanding male athlete during Temple Junior College awards assembly last week. Barron was a 1974 graduate of Yoe High and participated in basketball and baseball during high school. Barron was ace pitcher for the Leopards and during the past year pitched two no-hitters.

A tremendous honor for another Yoe athlete.

BANQUET HONORS. ... A smile that went from ear to ear covered Vanessa Wilkerson who was crowned Football Sweetheart for '75-'76. During the past year Vanessa was a member of the Yoe marching band and was a twirler. There was no doubt that the honor came as a surprise and that it was a most welcomed one by the graduating senior.

Another small shock was registered when Joey Mondrik was named as the booster player of the year. Mondrik who has signed a letter of intent with a prep school prior to an appointment to Annapolis also reflected sense of pride when his name was announced.

It was a double header for the Mondrik family when Lincoln Mondrik was named Booster of the year. Lincoln is the grandfather of Joey.

Memories of the athletic banquet won't be forgotten, especially by the deserving recipients of the banquet awards -- Good Job.

BASEBALL. ... Coach Paul Hoelscher's hardballers ended their '76 baseball season with one game remaining on the schedule. Because of rainy conditions the final game was postponed, indefinitely.

Elgin was able to grab a two game lead in the north-zone play and will now move into the district championship game.

In north-zone play the Yoe sluggers were able to hold on to a 500 season.

The baseball team was young -- losing only four seniors to graduation and will return a slew of fine potential of the coming seasons. The team sport had a range of freshmen to seniors to fill the roster.

Next year looks to be packed with returning lettermen -- including ace pitcher Gerry Heltman.

REFLECTIONS. ... As it bragging or is it statement of fact. I have been caught up in debate over the past year of when fact or facts become bragging.

I have reflected the accomplishments of the past YHS athletic season. This included the building of what were once minor sports becoming major sports due to winning and possibly a little bragging.
